WHAT TO DO WITH FEES IS QUESTION FOR COUN. BOOTH

Fund Has Been Piling up For
Some Time Since Discharge
Has Stopped

MONEY NOW HELD TO BE PAID OVER TO MEN

Future Disposition of the Fees
Has Not Yet Been Determined

(From Morning Edition.)

Commissioner Booth, of the safety and health department, has been considering the question of the payment to police officers of the fees allowed by the criminal code. It will be remembered that, as announced exclusively in the Bulletin at the time, ex-Chief Carpenter last summer ordered the payments to be discontinued, and since then the fees have been accumulating in the safe of the police department. The fees are for the serving of summonses and such work, and also include half the fines in option and disorderly house cases.

Ex-Chief Carpenter was the ground that the payments did not conduce to discipline. He thought that those officers who were not in the position so that they could earn the fees would be discouraged by the fact that they saw others adding largely to their income by this means, and he was also of the opinion that the officers might form the habit of looking after on their own the police department's return, and neglect or pay but small attention to the more serious cases of crime.

Men Must Take Initiative

Commissioner Booth agrees with these sentiments, but does not quite know how to deal with the matter. The fees are allowed by the criminal code, and are not controlled by the city, and any action that might be taken would really be to take away from the men themselves. The commissioner has been considering the question of the fees for some time, and has been accumulating up to Wednesday last to be paid over to the men, so as to clear the state, but just what he will do is yet to be determined. It is likely that the men will not meet and voluntarily relinquish the fees in which case the matter will be complicated.

Amount Now Over $300

Chief Landry said last night that the accumulated fees amount to about three hundred dollars. There was up to a short time, and it was much larger amount, but it will be remembered that certain members of the force paid over the amount in their names, so as to replace the sum of five hundred and forty dollars which was stolen from the police station last before the recent municipal elections. The largest contributor was ex-inspector Campbell, who relinquished the sum of one hundred and eighty dollars.

Cammetti Starts Over Rep. Representatives by Urging Passage of Strict Asiatic Exclusion Bill Aimed at Hindus, Chinese and Japanese—Declares "Gentlemen's Agreement" Would Be Little Good.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Commissioner-General of Immigration Cammetti started the house committee today on immigration with a tirade against Japan, as he urged the passage of a strict Asiatic exclusion bill. Mr. Cammetti was expected to observe the request made by President Wilson through Secretary Bryan, that the bill should be put on a "hold" question until an agreement is reached between the state department and Japan. Hindus, Chinese and Japanese were placed virtually in one class so far as immigration is concerned by Mr. Cammetti. He insisted that the "gentlemen's agreement" between the state department and the Japanese government should not be allowed to postpone congressional action.

He would insist in excluding the Mikado's subjects.

"Asiatic immigration is a menace to the entire country," he said. "This is true especially of California, but danger is national. No part of our country is immune."

"In my opinion there are no treaties which prove that adopting the proposed legislation. The reports that Japan are leaving the country in droves because they are entering are not true. The number has declined in the past six years."

Mr. Cammetti said the Hindu exclusion bill should be at least 10,000 Hindus in California alone," he said.

Commissioner Booth Promises Surprises During Police Probe

Another Session Held Last Night—Sergeant Lang and Constable
Sylvester, Dismissed Following Escape of South Side Prisoners, to Be Reinstated—
Superior Officers Receive
Sewers Lectures

(From Morning Edition.)

Commissioner Booth probed the police department last night at a session held by him last night in Chief Constable's private office at the police station. It was not a very serious session. The only matters under investigation were the escape of four prisoners—two from the central station and two from the central station.

"I have no lines out in other directions," said Commissioner Booth to the Bulletin at the close of the proceedings. "But the trouble is that it is very difficult to get sufficient evidence to prove anything. I firmly believe, however, that we will have one or two surprises for you before long."

Officers to Be Reinstated

As a result of the investigation last night, Sergeant Lang and Constable Sylvester, who were dismissed last night, were reinstated to their positions. They were reinstated to their positions after having been suspended for two weeks. The reinstatement was made on the condition that they would make four weeks in all. No decision was made with regard to Constable Driggs, who was acting as turnkey at the central station when Francis and Delmar broke away.

Lang Was Good Hoped For

"Lang was a good man," said the commissioner, "but both good men, with nothing to do with the escape. The recurrence. They both admit that they were in the wrong, and I do not think, after their reinstatement, that they will be any more likely to cause to complain of them again. They have learned a lesson."

Had No Reason for Discharge

Lang was formerly a member of the detective department, but was transferred to the uniform department and attached to the South side station as sergeant during the frequent shelling of the department by ex-Chief Carpenter. He did some very good work during the department's shelling, and the reputation of being an efficient officer. Sylvester has been considered a good man in the police force, and his discharge papers show that he had no reason for his discharge. Just what he will do is yet to be determined.

Among those who were "on the carpet" last night were Inspector

Halg and Shute, Captain Robinson and Constable Wright, Sergeant Lang and Constable Sylvester. All the facts as previously published in the Bulletin were confirmed, and very little new light was thrown on the situation.

Had No Reason for Discharge

The inquiry brought out one important fact, however. It transpired that the men who were reinstated were not reinstated because they were reinstated, but because they were reinstated. The men who were reinstated were not reinstated because they were reinstated, but because they were reinstated.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1914

The summary rejection of the petition asking for a judicial enquiry into the stronger terms now employed. We seem to have arrived at the point where it is necessary to vindicate the right of the ratepayers of the city to humbly petition the city council in respect to a matter of vital public concern, to be treated with the deference due from elected representatives to the people whose business they have in charge, and to receive for their prayer the consideration to which its subject-matter and its authority entitle it. That it should be necessary at this time and in this far corner of a British dominion to reassert this ancient principle of responsible government is remarkable. That it should be necessary to do so against an administration elected upon the profession of ultra-democratic principles would be too funny for words were it not for the consequences involved. The fact is that the present directors of civic policy, having attained power by the most profuse professions of a desire to be ever and always in congregate touch with the trend of public opinion, have developed during their brief term in office a more resolute disposition to ignore public opinion and to defy public opinion than characterized any previous regime. Not only are the majority of the administration indifferent to the wishes, and even the rights, of the ratepayers—they say so. "Unhappiness" is the elegant epithet applied to those who venture an untimely expression of dissent from some dictum of the ruling faction. "We led at the polls," is the right which seems to them to settle finally any question of the right of a body of taxpayers to make representations touching the management of civic affairs. Should a body of respected citizens who contribute to the rate to the city treasury see fit to embody their views in a most respectfully worded petition, not only is the petition cast aside as of no moment, the petitioners are badgered, harrassed, insulted, and driven off as a band of interlopers and meddlers who should be jumped on with hob-nailed boots. Aside altogether from the merits of the petition for an investigation, the treatment accorded those who presented it and the general attitude of domineering insolence of which this was an instance, call for action to establish the right of the ratepayers to say in the management of their affairs. The petition now being circulated should be readily accepted by all who have a real and vested interest at stake in the city. It is more than a demand for a judicial investigation into the working of a civic department—it is a declaration of rights on behalf of the man who has to foot the bills.

Alderman May writes the Bulletin that he did not mean what the Bulletin reported him as saying. Mr. Wolf and his publicity bureau, however, has not said it all the same.

Three members of the Quebec Legislature have been found guilty of being caught in a bribery plot laid for them by two Montreal newspapers and a bevy of detectives. The legislators will, of course, be punished, certainly by the public, and perhaps also by process of law. The plotters, it is to be hoped, will also get their due. To punish the victims and allow the plotters to go free would be a travesty upon justice.

While the council are wrestling with the estimates for the year's operations, the time the question of securing a pure water supply for the city should be considered, if the intention is to give any attention to that matter. The present system, by which a sewerage disposal system are the two really essential enterprises which should be taking shape in the plans of the city's leaders, has proven one of which the city's credit should be conserved where non-essential projects are concerned. If anything is to be done toward their solution this year, now is the time to make the start.

According to a Calgary dispatch, a decidedly interesting situation has arisen out of the late oil boom in the southern part of the Province. The innumerable companies formed to make millions by the exploitation of the supposed oil fields, now have leases obtained from the Government. A "high legal authority" is now said to have given the opinion that the Government has the right to give the leases to the companies that have been formed between 1880 and 1908 really included the mineral as well as the surface rights. Locally the immediate result is consternation among the potential Rockefeller and a general wonderment as to the prospect of getting back the money put into the oil companies. Should the right to give the leases be correct, there will be a carnival of speculation, investigation, litigation, jubilation and desperation extending from the lakes to the mountains, accompanied by an outbreak of perturbation among capitalists in London, Paris, Berlin, Brussels and some United States cities, who have acquired mineral rights of land allocated by the Government in the period mentioned. Should the "high legal authority" prove wrong, the result will be to knock the bottom out of the oil companies, and is somewhat retard development of "fields" underlying land which passed into private possession in the years named.

A Victoria dispatch says the Government of British Columbia propose to borrow ten millions of dollars with which to pay over the public debt and make large expenditures under "revenue act." The strength of the Mc Bride Government used to lie in the claim that the Ministers were able to make the current revenue meet the current outlay and thus

MINISTER HEDGES
WHEN BROUGHT TO
TASK BY HON. OLIVER

Hon. Robert Rogers Minister Position When Called Upon to Produce Document

YESTERDAY WAS QUIET
DAY IN THE COMMONS

Railway Bill Sponsored by J. M.
Douglas, Strickland, is the Topic of Discussion

(From Morning Edition.)
OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—This was not an eventful day in the Commons. A few government bills were advanced, some estimates were voted upon, and a few bills were considered for an hour in the evening, then estimates were taken up again. The day was taken up with the consideration of demands by the government to change the railway bill. The proposal to limit the time during which the railway bill should be considered, and the construction of authorized railways to one year and completion of the railway bill was discussed in consideration of James M. Douglas's motion in this regard. On Tuesday the railway commission put this provision in this bill. On Thursday the committee decided on a standstill, and it was not until Wednesday that this change general and tonight the advisability of having it applied to one bill and not to others was under discussion. It was finally agreed to let the bill stand over for the present.

Mr. Rogers Questioned
Hon. Frank Oliver again asked Hon. Robert Rogers if he could give the answer for a question he had read in the House a few days ago, attributed to a newspaper interview given by Mr. Oliver and which was published in the Montreal Star. The statement attributed to Mr. Oliver was to the effect that he had been asked by Mr. Rogers in a private conversation in the House in connection with the railway bill, "They have the power of speech and therefore they are entitled to express their political opinions. They are entitled to express them to men of their own party, but they are not entitled to go on the public platform and express them as presidents and officers of Liberal organizations." Hon. Mr. Rogers said it was not his practice to undertake to make statements except in accordance with the facts. He said that when he was asked for his authority in the House the other day, he did not have it at hand, but he was prepared to give it some.

Repeated Rogers's Quotation
He was repeating a quotation already given in the House in 1908 by the present leader of the government, Mr. Laurier, who said that Mr. Oliver had been read at that time by Mr. Rogers and the member for Edmonton, then said that the leader of the opposition had given him the honor of repeating his own words, and his opinion. At that time, said Mr. Rogers, the member for Edmonton had not been in the House so long.

"The minister has misquoted me," even as he read it, it was Mr. Oliver's comment. "I merely call the attention of the house to that fact."

WILL BE EXECUTED TUESDAY.
CALGARY, Feb. 13.—Sheriff Graham received word from Ottawa today that there would be no interference by the authorities with the execution of Jasper Collins, under death sentence for the murder of John Benson. The execution is set for Tuesday. He is the official hangman, arrived in the city today, and began the grim preparations for discharge of his grim function.

TO RESTRICT IMMIGRATION
OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—E. N. Lewis, M.P. for West, has introduced a bill of a resolution which he will move, having for its object the restriction of immigration to the production of classes or those who purpose engaging as domestic help and that the number of 14 degrees north latitude and east of 20 degrees of east longitude in Europe and from Turkey and Asia, shall be, as far as practicable, barred from Canada.

Correspondence

CAR FLOORS
Editor Bulletin:
Sir—Have been asked by three car conductors to draw your kind and I trust Superintendent Woodroffe's effective attention to the highly dangerous and very slippery condition of the street car floors. I myself saw a man get a very bad fall on the car floor of the street car. He had been assisted to his seat. Among the dangerous falling and away of the car floor, caused a man to lose his balance and he was thrown through the door injuring his arm on the iron rail.

The slippery snow covered hard wooden narrow strips run the wrong way. They should be across the car from side to side, as they give absolutely no foot hold.

Let a dozen or so narrow strips be put across the first few feet of flooring before anything serious happens.

R. MACWHINNIE.

HOUSE NUMBERING PROBLEM
Editor Bulletin:
Sir—In the hope that the following suggestion may be helpful in the problem of house numbering and street naming I submit the same.

It can scarcely be claimed that the old street and avenue names are perplexing to the newcomer, and less so to the resident of some time, and therefore that portion of the question might be allowed to stand. The real difficulty appears to be the location of any particular address in any one street or avenue, thus causing inconvenience and loss of time, chiefly to transients.

By taking the several one-mile radii from the post office, the centre of the city, and by intersecting this central point by two lines, one drawn due north and south, the other due east and west, it will be possible for every resident to describe his locality within a block or so, as exemplified below, and as probably most of the traffic is from the centre of the city outward, the vehicle or pedestrian would start in the right direction at once.

A 12-cent stamp will give everyone his position at a glance.

There is the centre of the city, the circles numbered 1st up to 6th, as also the four quarters.

A few minor difficulties, such as buildings on a line are easily overcome.

Resident Albert Avenue at City Park Avenue would describe his address as 2nd circle, N.E., giving the house number on Alberta Avenue. A resident on White Avenue at Garneau would give 1st circle, S.W. A resident on Macdonald Avenue at Gimcrue would give 1st (or 2nd) circle N.W., as his particular case might be.

As an alternative (or the above) compass sections and to reduce the letters to N, S, E, and W, two lines could be drawn, one due N.E. and

S.W., the other due N.W. and S.E.; the former plan would, however, doubtless prove simpler, and is to be thanked you for space.

WILFRED J. ROSE.
Edmonton, Feb. 13, 1914.

STILL ANOTHER NEW SCHEDULE
Editor Bulletin:
Sir—And the cry is, "Bill They Come!" I refer to the street railway schedule. Another new one is to be introduced next Monday. The superintendent takes care not to mention this latest product of his genius in the newspapers, but the notices has been posted at the car houses the past two days.

The recent schedule will by Monday have lasted eight days, and what do you suppose is the reason primarily given for dropping this schedule so quickly? The extraordinary running behind financially which developed in the very first few days. This, mind you, notwithstanding the laying off of 45 men, and on the heels of the superintendent's assertion in his latest letter to the commissioners, that if they would let him put the present schedule into effect it would save them $100 to $400 per day. Instead the additional loss is estimated at $100 per day.

This schedule is found to be defective in service, as well as a loser of money compared with the last one. So much so, that the present schedule will in fact be given up tomorrow by the addition of four or five cars as regulars; so that this schedule will really have lasted six days.

What a time exhibition the superintendent continues to give of his management ability! Wonder how he will ascribe the trouble to interest paid on bonds, or to the high cost of power?

T. F. BYRON.
Edmonton, Feb. 13, 1914.

THE CASE OF CIVIL SERVANTS
Editor Bulletin:
Sir—Mr. George Watson deserves the thanks of the civil servants for having attention to the miserable scale of salaries they receive—salaries altogether out of proportion to the high cost of living.

The general scale of pay in the government offices here is $45 monthly at the start—after three months it is raised to $70.

Take the case of married clerks. What economy has to be practiced? A married clerk with a family of four, rent, fuel, clothes, food, and the numerous necessary items always cropping up.

When the present high rents are taken into account, and a five-roomed house in a respectable locality, one must pay about $40 rent, coal, and the other expenses, the cost on an average of $12 monthly—these two items alone come to $52, leaving the clerk with $18 to cover expenses for food, clothing, electric light, water, and other necessities.

Truly a considerable government would expect its employees to live on the above magnificent salary!

One hundred dollars monthly is the lowest salary that should be offered—and even on that one has no much margin for live extravagance—considering the high cost of living in the West.

A laboring man, without any education, can earn $25 or $30 monthly, clearing brush, sweeping the streets, or ploughing on the farm, and surely men in government offices, who are expected to dress well, and keep up

Peace River Crossing

IMPORTANT To Small Investors

WE have had a great many inquiries from Managers of various Business Houses, Bank Clerks, School Teachers, Bookkeepers, etc., regarding our lots at Peace River Crossing, but our terms were such that it seemed impossible for a person even on a generous salary to invest.

WE were fortunate in acquiring the property that we are now offering, some two years ago, at a price that would not be considered low for the following lots. We are now offering a price and on terms which make it possible for the above-mentioned investors to buy and share in the profits which are now about to be realized.

WE trust that the prudent investors with limited capital will avail themselves of this opportunity—before some real estate manipulator will buy up what we are offering. The lots are high, dry and suitable for business sites at the present moment. Call and see us at your earliest convenience.
